Honorable Finnie:

I am putting finger to wordprocessor to invite you to join an august but hopefully unpretentious new wine club. The details are still in the formative stages but the following points have already been proposed:

1. The membership will be restricted to 10-12 males. The annual dinner would be for couples. Already enrolled are: Ian Anderson, Rick Lee, Steve Eakins, Trevor Lobb, myself and Ron Holliday (?).
2. The annual subscription fee would be $200 ($100 every six months).
3. We propose to meet on the second Tuesday of every month. The full membership may decide on a more appropriate night. Our next meeting will be at the Lee household (1011 Wellington Street) on March 10 at 8 p.m.
4. Each meeting would be a wine tasting (how about that for appropriateness?). The form and content of the meeting will be decided entirely by the host member. Club funds would pay for the wine.
5. An annual dinner would be held with the wine provided for by the club.
6. Although meetings will be structured around "tastings" the emphasis will be on enjoyment rather than oenophilia!

Interested? If you like I can tell you more next Saturday when we meet.

Yours in vino,
